

Tour The Twilight Saga: Exploring Vancouver, British Columbia

The Magic of Twilight in Vancouver

If you are a fan of the Twilight Saga series, Vancouver, British Columbia is the ultimate destination for you. Known for its breathtaking landscapes, vibrant city life, and proximity to beautiful forests and mountains, Vancouver served as the filming location for many iconic scenes in the Twilight Saga movies. In this in-depth guide, we will take you on a journey through the various locations that played a pivotal role in bringing the magical world of vampires and werewolves to life.

1. Forks, Washington: A Recreation in British Columbia

In the Twilight Saga, Forks, Washington is the town where the story unfolds. However, the actual filming of these scenes predominantly took place in Vancouver and its surrounding areas. As you explore the city, you will discover numerous spots that were transformed into the atmospheric town of Forks. Take a stroll through Stanley Park, which served as a filming location for iconic scenes such as Bella and Edward's first encounter or their romantic walks in the rain.

2. Volterra, Italy: Unveiling the Hometown of the Volturi

The majestic city of Volterra, Italy, holds an important role in the Twilight Saga as the home of the Volturi, the powerful coven of vampires. Surprisingly, the grandeur of Volterra was recreated in Vancouver for certain scenes. Visit the iconic Hatley Castle, which served as the exterior of the Volturi headquarters. Stretching across vast lands, the castle's Gothic architecture perfectly embodied the eerie yet captivating ambience of Volterra.

3. La Push, Washington: Beaches and Werewolf Legends

La Push, Washington is an integral part of the Twilight Saga, being the home of the Quileute tribe and the werewolves. Although La Push itself is located in Washington, the beautiful beaches and enchanting landscapes were replicated in nearby Vancouver. Experience the breathtaking Long Beach, a secluded shore stretching for miles and surrounded by lush green forests. The powerful connection between the Quileute tribe and the nature surrounding them truly comes to life in this mesmerizing location.

4. Exploration Beyond the Saga

While Vancouver showcases various iconic Twilight Saga locations, it also offers numerous other attractions that are worth exploring during your visit. Take a walk through the historic Gastown district, known for its Victorian architecture and unique shops. Enjoy stunning views by visiting the Capilano Suspension Bridge Park, offering thrilling adventures amidst the lush rainforest. Additionally, immerse yourself in the vibrant culinary scene of Granville Island, where you can find an array of fresh produce, seafood, and artisanal goods.

Vancouver, British Columbia, provides the perfect opportunity for Twilight Saga fans to immerse themselves in the enchanting world of vampires and werewolves. From exploring the atmospheric town of Forks to unraveling the mysteries of Volterra, Vancouver's diverse landscapes and vibrant city life will leave you captivated. So pack your bags, grab your camera, and embark on a magical journey through the Twilight Saga in the breathtaking beauty of Vancouver.

Below are just a few of the fourteen (14) Vancouver, BC film sites you can enjoy.

Jacob Black's House! The structures actually used for shooting all exterior scenes at Billy and Jacob's home still exist, and look just like they did during filming. This New Moon, Eclipse, and Breaking Dawn film site is found in the Minnekhada Park region of Coquitlam, just northwest of Vancouver, BC.

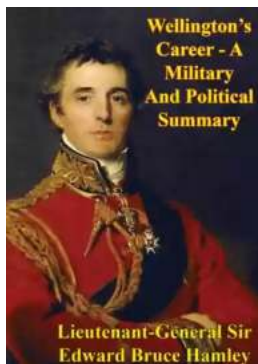

New Westminster--a suburb of Vancouver--is where several New Moon "Port Angeles" segments were filmed, such as movie theater exterior scenes and Bella's dangerous motorcycle ride with a stranger. Eclipse footage of Riley chastising Victoria's Newborn Vampires as they rampaged in "Seattle" (with the Volturi looking on) was shot just down the street.

In another Vancouver suburb--Richmond--you'll find the Gulf of Georgia Cannery dock. This is where Eclipse scenes of Victoria administering her fateful bite, causing Riley to writhe in agony as vampire venom began to course through his veins, were filmed.

Tour the Twilight Saga Book Two is the only travel guidebook you'll need to plan and enjoy the most Twilicious Vancouver, BC holiday possible! No other single source--no Internet website or previously published guidebook--provides as much Twi-important information in one place.

Even if you're not yet ready to embark upon a Twilight Saga trip, each Tour the Twilight Saga travel guidebook is fun to read! Nowhere else will you find such interesting information about each and every Twilight-related site.
